

FIERCE WEDNESDAYS

Hey FIERCE Mother,

Welcome to FIERCE Wednesdays newsletter, where I provide weekly tips to help mothers fulfill their purpose without guilt or burnout in four minutes or less. Each tip will fall into one of my six-step FIERCE methodology steps. Click here to learn more about the FIERCE methodology.

Have you ever heard the phrase "Don't put all your eggs in one basket"? It means that it's risky to depend on one thing to succeed, and it's better to have multiple options. According to Ecclesiastes, we should spread our efforts across more than one activity. Here are three thoughts on the subject of multiple options.

1. Success doesn't come from a single source. It's not just one thing that will make us successful. Instead, it's a combination of factors that produce the desired outcome. Just like a farmer who plants various seeds in his field, we too must sow and develop in different areas of our lives.

2. We must not be afraid to take risks and try new things.

The more seeds we plant, the greater the chance of a bountiful harvest. So we must be diligent in our efforts and keep sowing, keep growing, even when we don't see immediate results. The harvest will come, but it may come from a different seed than we expected.

3. We should not depend on one thing. In our pursuit of success, it's easy to focus on one goal or strategy. But just as a farmer who only plants one type of seed risks losing his entire crop to disease or pests, we too risk failure if we depend solely on one thing. By diversifying our efforts and spreading our seeds, we increase our chances of success.

Let's keep sowing and planting the seeds towards our goals. Success is not dependent on one thing but a combination of things. The harvest will come, and it will be a result of more than one seed sown.

I am wishing you a fruitful and diverse season of success.

Stay FIERCE. I love you,

Ugochi

PS > Today on the podcast, I speak with Oonah Jaja-Wachuku. Oonah is an educator, researcher, writer, and lifelong learner, a maverick person with collaborating dualities. She has multiple interests and pastimes. Her overarching aim is to bring positive and lasting change to the world, one person at a time.

Today, we talk about women rebelling against the norm and how everyone has a part to play in God's story.

As an educator, Oonah discussed how her crucial driver is to be a skilled enabler because that's what a teacher is, an enabler of people's dreams.

We discussed what made Oonah decide to write her first book, and she explained how one should not shrink back because the world needs to hear what you have inside of you, even if it's one impacted person.

To listen to episode 47 on your favorite podcast platform, click here.

Please like, review, and subscribe to the podcast, so you don't miss any new updates.

Here is a short Loom Video showing you how to leave a review on Apple Podcasts. It means a great deal. Thank You!

Great News!!!!

The relaunch of my book FIERCE Mothers - Create the Life of Your Dreams is here.

The book is available in Paperback, Kindle, and Audio.

You can purchase it on Amazon.

Watch this space for a brand-new offering in the coming weeks.

UGOCHI ONYEWU

AUTHOR • SPEAKER • THOUGHT LEADER

 301.327.4485

FIERCE mothers

FIERCE Mothers

8720 Georgia Ave, Silver Spring
United States of America

You received this email because you signed up on our website or made a purchase from us.

Unsubscribe

