

FIERCE WEDNESDAYS

Hey FIERCE Mama,

Welcome to the FIERCE Wednesdays newsletter, where I provide weekly tips to help burned-out moms find purpose and love life. I do this every other week through my FIERCE methodology, which you can read in four minutes or less. Each tip will fall into one of my six-step FIERCE methodology steps. Click here to learn more about the FIERCE methodology. The weekly tips also come through the podcast episode guest highlights on alternating weeks.

In today's episode of the FIERCE Mothers' Podcast, I sit down with Dupe Akinyede, the Chief Information Officer of Residio Technologies Inc., a Honeywell spinoff with over $6 Billion in revenue.

Dupe, a London School of Economics graduate, embarked on her career journey as a Certified Accountant at Ernst and Young in search of career opportunities and inspiration. Little did she know her path would lead to a remarkable career in technology leadership.

With over three decades of experience delivering value through people, processes, and technology, Dupe is a passionate leader dedicated to nurturing her team's growth and creating value in every endeavor. But that's not all she is – Dupe is also a dedicated wife, a fierce mother of three, and a wanderlust traveler with a penchant for reading.

In today's episode, Dupe gives us a glimpse into her life, exploring her guiding principles for life and motherhood. We discover the key tenets that have steered her incredible journey from her early days at Ernst and Young to becoming a CIO.

Dupe discusses her leadership philosophies and how she inspires and mentors others, especially women, on the path to Executive Leadership. This episode provides insights, advice, and inspiration for our fierce mothers and aspiring leaders.
